Consignment Agreement

Welcome! We're pleased that you want to become a part of our shop! Here's how it works:

When you bring your items in, we'll select what our customers will buy. Sometimes there will be items we cannot sell. Please understand that our customers' preferences must be our selection guidelines.

We base prices on supply and demand. We will get the best possible prices for you. A small buyer's fee will be added to the price of all items. This fee is paid by the buyer, not by the consignor.

We will display your items for 2 months starting the day they are put on the floor. Pricing, markdowns, and periodic sales are at the discretion of Back On The Racks.

Once an item sells, 40% of the final selling price, less taxes and buyer's fees, will be credited to your account. Come in any time for any money owed to you. We mail checks every quarter for any account balance that is over $75, just in case you haven't been in.

If you come in to Back On The Racks, you can collect your money via store credit, cash ($25 and under), or check (over $25). Consignor will be required to present their Consignor Account Number and Personal ID to collect any money that is owed.

It is the consignor's responsibility to keep track of the 2-month consignment period and to retrieve any unsold items after that time. If you would like to retrieve unsold items you have 5 business days after the expiration date to do so. Call us ahead of time and we'll have them ready for you. Items not picked up within 5 days of their expiration date become the property of Back On The Racks. Initials _____

We will do our best to safeguard your items but we are not responsible for any damage or loss.

We look forward to a long and mutually profitable association with you. After all, we couldn't do it without you!

By signing this agreement, I agree to all of the terms above and certify that I own the items brought in for consignment with all rights to sell such items.
